COUNSELOR'S CORNER WITH MRS. USKOSKI

We are off to a great school year! Please remember that attendance is essential to your child's academic achievement. Missing just one or two days every few weeks can make it harder for children to develop reading skills. Here are some ideas to help with the transition back into a school-year routine:

- Let children choose clothes they'd like to wear the night before.
- Set routines for bedtime and morning; routines help everyone feel more relaxed and in control. Making a visual schedule helps young students (and adults).

Free "Friday" food bags are available to all families who would like to receive them. The Sequim Food Bank sends home a bag of student meal items for the weekend each Friday. Please let me know if you'd like to participate. You can call me at (360) 582-3303 or email me at ruskoski@sequimschools.org.

DISTRICT NURSE NEWS

Parents,
In an effort to control the spread of head lice within the schools, the Sequim School District would appreciate your help. If your child complains of head itching, please check their hair for head lice or their eggs (nits). We are happy to provide treatment information. By notifying the health room staff, you allow us to better protect your children.
